NEEDS MENTORS

Our Mission

SHE-CAN builds female leadership in post-conflict nations – the places that need it most and are ready for change. We identify exceptional young women in Rwanda and Cambodia and match each with a team of 4-6 women who help them earn full scholarships to world-class universities in the United States. With the guidance and love of their mentors, our scholars are defying all odds to become leaders at home.

Join or Start a Team

Each SHE-CAN mentor team collectively supports their scholar from the college application process through graduation and the launch of her career. Consider starting a mentor team with a circle of your own friends and take on the lead role. Or we will match you with a team from the SHE-CAN network.

Is Mentoring with SHE-CAN Right for You?

1. Are you excited about being on the ground floor of an organization poised to be a force in global women's empowerment?
2. Do you love the idea of working together with a team of successful and passionate women to make amazing things happen?
3. Do you want to personally connect with an aspiring leader and help her find her voice and power?
4. Could your family be enriched by a relationship with a young woman from a post-conflict country?
